CAPABILITY BRIEF

Tahlia “TK” Ashwood-Peart

I turn messy operating problems into systems people — and AI — can actually execute.

My background is process ownership, readiness, controls, knowledge systems, and cross-functional execution. I now apply that same discipline to products, automation, and agentic workflows.

10+ yrs	20+	800+	75+
cross-industry operations	recurring control reports analyzed	employees across five sites supported through training	internal processes reorganized in knowledge systems

WHERE I HELP

Throughput. When high-value judgment gets buried under context switching, coordination, and follow-through.

Idea → build-ready product. When a good idea reaches engineering before workflows, edge cases, or acceptance criteria are clear.

Information → decision. When teams have plenty of input but no reliable path from evidence to priority to action.

WHAT I CAN SHOW

Operations & controls. Designed and improved 10+ control procedures at Wells Fargo; owned audit corrective-action plans at JPMorgan Chase; Certified Business Resiliency Coordinator.

Strategy & research. U.S. Army Reserve Psychological Operations: audience research, stakeholder and key-leader mapping, and campaign design under uncertainty.

Knowledge & change. Owned policies, procedures and job aids in Chase’s knowledge platform; redesigned taxonomy, accessibility, and accuracy across 75+ internal processes; coordinated training for 800+ people.

Products & systems. Active builds in context intelligence (ALVIRA), authorization and enforcement (LEDGATo), portfolio intelligence (ailhat), and agent operations.

HOW I WORK WITH YOU

Give me one live workflow that feels harder to manage than it should. I map the current state, identify failure points, build the operating artifact or lightweight automation, and test whether it reduces context loss, manual coordination, or missed handoffs.
